Spanish war claims to the amount of $57,000,000 have been filed at Washington, and the books are not closed yet.

It is said that Admiral Sampson has developed aphasia. And a good many of the Government witnesses in the Schley case seem to have caught it.

Mobile papers report that steps are being taken to establish a German colony in Alabama. German colonies are good things. We would like to see lots of them in the South.

A Savannah paper remarks that "Oysters are coming modestly to the front." That's the way they come to the front up this way all the time. Our oysters never put on any airs.

The deaths of Boers in the British camps average 220 a week. As these are mostly children if Kitchener can keep it up he may in course of time exhaust the supply of fighters.

The farmers of Rockbridge county, Va., who grow apples, have been realizing an average profit of more than $200 an acre from them this year. Dealers buy them on the trees and do their own picking.

A man was arrested in Savannah last week for bribing voters. He paid $5 a vote. No wonder they had him arrested. A man who would run the market price up from 50 cents to $5, must have had malice in him. Something should be done with him.

If Schley did say "damn the Texas" it must be remembered that things were getting pretty hot about that time, and a man could not be expected to be particularly frigid in his remarks. "Fighting Bob Evans" would probably have put some prefixes to the monosyllable to round it up.

President Roosevelt is quoted as saying, "I am going to make such appointments as will make every Southerner respect the Republican party." He can easily make such appointments as will make every Southerner respect him, but when it comes to respecting the Republican party that is another matter. That will be a pretty large sized job.

LOCAL DOTS.

—British steamer Torgorm, hence, arrived at Ghent yesterday.

— Stock in the Wilmington Savings and Trust Company is wanted. See business local column.

— Pythians of Wilmington and all visiting Knights are asked not to forget the joint meeting to-night at 8 o'clock.

— The Daughters of the Confederacy will serve refreshments in the German Village booth during the fair and respectfully ask for the public patronage.

— A lady asks the STAR to call the attention of the authorities to reckless driving that she says is evident during the Carnival week when the streets are crowded with ladies and children.

— Although there has been much talk of "Crooks" at the fair, little evidence of their presence prevails. A number came to Wilmington but were informed by Chief of Police Furlong and City Detective Green that they had best "move on." However, caution should be observed.

— Capt. Danielsen, of the British steamship Candleshoe, which arrived Saturday from New York, reports that on the 10th inst. his vessel passed at 10:20 A. M. a submerged wreck with mastheads above water and very dangerous to shipping; bearing Fenwick shoal lightship N. W., true distance about seven miles.

— The foot-ball season in Wilmington will be opened at Hilton Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock with a game between the crack elevens of Cape Fear Academy and the Wilmington High School. Cars will be run to the Park. An admission of twenty five cents will be charged gentlemen; ladies free.

Death of Capt. Jos. Burruss.

The STAR regrets to chronicle the death of Capt. Joseph Burruss, an aged and highly respected citizen of Southport. Captain Burruss died at 12:01 o'clock Sunday morning and was buried at Southport yesterday afternoon. He was 73 years of age and served the Confederacy valiantly during the war on one of the blockaders running into this port. Deceased is survived besides his wife by one son, Capt. O. D. Burruss, who is so well and favorably known in Wilmington and three daughters. The sorrowing ones have the sympathy of numerous friends.

Three Had an Affray.

On account of a difficulty which T. F. Bell had on Saturday night with ex-Deputy Sheriff Geo. W. Millis, Walter Bell, a son of the former, G. W. Millis and his brother, Scip Millis, engaged in a lively affray in front of Justice McGowan's office yesterday. The three were tried by Justice Bornemann yesterday afternoon and bound over to the Superior Court in two cases each for an affray and resisting an officer. T. F. Bell, who was confined in the station house for his Saturday night offence, yesterday morning gave bond for his appearance in the municipal court this morning.

The Acme Tea Chest Co.

Mr. Arthur Meachan, one of the directors of the Acme Tea Chest Co., Glasgow, Scotland, reached the city yesterday morning on a visit to Mr. Will L. Miller, manager of the local branch of the large enterprise. Mr. Miller has chartered the steam tug Buck and will take Mr. Meachan on a three days' tour of the company's logging camp and landed interests, fifty-two miles up the Cape Fear. They will also visit the lands of the company on Black River, remaining away about three days.

Hails from Wilmington.

Goldsboro Argus: "A white man named E. B. Brown, who claims to hail from Wilmington, was arrested in LaGrange this morning in response to a telegram from Chief Freeman and brought back to Goldsboro on a charge of stealing $70 from an Assyrian at the Privett boarding house last night. Brown had a bed in the same room with two Assyrians. When they retired last night they left the door open for Brown. He did not show up this morning and one of the Assyrians missed $70 and suspicion fell on Brown. He was searched and $47 of the money was secured, together with a handkerchief which was recognized.

Shooting at Navassa.

In a fight at Navassa Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock, Jim Hall, colored, shot and perhaps fatally wounded Tom McKoy, also colored. The ball took effect in McKoy's right breast. Chief Furlong and Sergeant Burnett, of the Wilmington police department went over to Navassa in response to a telephone message, but Hall had fled, though he was held by the colored people of the neighborhood for a while after the shooting.

New Menhaden Fishery.

A party of twelve or fifteen contractors and carpenters arrived Sunday from Lewes, Del., and went down yesterday to the new menhaden fishery to begin work. The new factory will be completed and in operation in two or three weeks.

CARNIVAL OPENING.

Week of Festivity Begun in Blaze of Glory Last Evening at Seven O'clock.

MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR.

It Was a Token for Throwing Wide the Gates—Various Shows and Where Located—Programme for To-day—Large Attendance.

Under the most favorable auspices and with an augury of a week of great enjoyment for the people of Wilmington and visitors, the Elks Carnival and Street Fair opened last evening at 7 o'clock with booming of cannon, screaming of steam whistles, ringing of bells and a flashing of electrics.

The word was given for the formal opening of the fair exactly at 7 o'clock when Governor Charles B. Aycock, in the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company's office in Raleigh, flashed this message across the wires in response to an invitation sent him last week:

"RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 14th.

"Wilmington Lodge, No. 630, B. P. O. E., Wilmington, N. C.

"It gives me pleasure as Chief Executive of the State to open the Wilmington Carnival under the auspices of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks. Accept my congratulations and best wishes for its success. I now formally declare the Carnival open.

"CHARLES B. AYCOCK, Governor."

A multitude of people thronged the streets at the hour for opening and on the "midway" many friends met and exchanged cordial greetings. The weather was all that could be desired and the crowds lingered about the various multi-colored and ornamented booths until the hour of midnight.

The Elks have accomplished a great thing for Wilmington and every where compliments were bestowed upon their industry and enterprise in arranging the event.

The "show train" reached the city at 5 o'clock yesterday morning from Richmond and consisted of sixteen cars and a sleeper. The magnitude and variety of the attractions was a surprise to many. A whole day was consumed in spreading canvas, arranging the booths, etc. Even at that many of the shows last night were not in readiness for the opening but there was no complaint on the part of spectators. It seemed to be the opinion of all that a visit to the Carnival was well worth the while even under the handicapped conditions.

To day will naturally be a big one of the fair. The various free attractions will come off according to programme, and many will be given that are not on the programme. A parade of the Wilmington paid fire department will be a feature of this afternoon exercises, and the trolley parade to-night at 8 o'clock promises to be an interesting feature. Hollowbush's brass band of twenty-two pieces arrived yesterday and will give daily open air concerts. There are also several excellent bands with the Bostock Company.

The Shows and Where They Are.

There is plenty to amuse one a whole week at the Carnival. There are shows galore and all of them appear to be well pleasing to the multitudes that passed in and out last night. There are sixteen regular shows along with the Bostock-Ferari Company and there are many side liners—the fortune-telling booths, the cane rocks, the balloon stands, etc.—and all of them appear to be well patronized.

All the regular attractions are under the management of Col. Francis Ferari. The most captivating and one to which Col. Ferari gives his personal attention is the trained animal show at Front and Market streets. The animals were personally selected by Col. Ferari. Wallace, the untamable lion, performing lion, the wrestling kangaroo and other trained animals make a very interesting exhibit. Another very popular feature at Front and Market, on the east side, is the Crystal Maze. Up Market street as far as Second, is found Electra. Maid of the Air, a steam propelled system of hobby horses that are proving very popular and the Streets of All Nations. The latter was a great favorite in Richmond and is proving so here. The Turkish dancing girls and other features of the show are attracting big crowds. Kabel E. Nelmy, the manager, was at one time an attache at the Turkish legation in Washington. Near this corner the High Diver has his tank of water of 36 inches in depth and will make free exhibitions of high diving during the fair. At Front and Princess streets on the west side is the German Village where there are to be seen slack wire performers, Tyrolean performers and other vaudeville attractions. Across the street is Minnie, the Wild Girl, who has superhuman powers. She is known as the Australian bushgirl. She is between 35 and 40 years of age and has been exhibited for 17 years. On this corner troupes of Japanese and Hindoos will also perform wonder feats.

In front of the Postoffice, on Front street, is the Ferris wheel propelled by a gasoline engine. South of this attraction is the Elks' Country Store, a local feature, managed by Mr. James H. Cowan, assisted by Mr. J. W. Bloome. A committee of Elks is also present to administer to the wants of the multitude.

At the eastern intersection of Front and Chesnut streets is the Moorish Palace, which is one of the twenty-five cent attractions and a popular one, too. The fire dance, the Chameleon lady in poses plastique, the vivified statue are very interesting. Opposite the Moorish Palace is the London Dog and Monkey Circus. This feature is especially popular with the ladies and children. Mrs. Murphy, the monkey balloonist, is the star of the Show.

Near Front and Grace, on the west side of Front street are Major Aguinaldo, the tiny Filipino, and the smallest horse in the world. The horse weighs only 28 pounds and is 24 inches high.

At the eastern intersection of Grace and Front streets is "A Trip to the Moon" in which are presented some attractive living pictures. Further up Front street, on the west side, the Norweigan barrel-jumpers, contortionists and others do a free performance.

At Front and Dock streets Edison's moving pictures are up-to-date and never fail to please the crowds. Across the street is Osco, who "eats 'em alive," and inspires the stentorian voice of the barker. Bosco is dead, but Osco is still with us.

There are many free acts. The balloon ascension of Mrs. Murphy and her parachute leap; Horikoslu's band of Japanese acrobats; Mdlle. Kotony in her thrilling aerial act on a telegraph pole; the Norwegian barrel-jumpers, and the contortionists will please the multitude. The most sensational of the free shows is the act of Grant, who rides a bicycle across a live wire. This is a very spectacular feat at night, and the electrical effects are startling and beautiful.

Visitors to the Carnival will find no lack of good shows, and the ticket sellers were kept very busy last night. Managing Director Ferari has a valuable corps of colleagues in V. D. Leavitt, business manager; B. H. Patrick, secretary and treasurer, and H. B. Potter, general agent. They are untiring in their efforts to keep all the shows up to such a standard that general satisfaction and pleasure will be experienced by the big crowds that witness these attractions.

Some of the Trades' Displays.

Commendable enterprise has been shown by many merchants in the erection of booths and in window and store decorations for the Carnival. Beginning on North Front street Mr. J. G. Skipper, the confectioner, has a very creditable booth; Tucker Bros., the marble men, come next and in their order down Front street are the booths of the following: J. D. Nutt, Sternberger Brothers, Geo. O. Gaylord, J. H. Rehder & Co. (Front and Chesnut), A. S. Winstead, Geo. R. French & Son, Victor Zoeller & Co., J. W. Plummer, Jr. (Front and Princess), Joe. H. Hinton (opposite MacRae building), Chesnut & Barentine, Warren's Bakery and Cafe, Fishblate Clothing Company and Chas. M. Steiff, S. H. Kress & Co., George Honnett, The C. W. Polvogt Company, H. J. Gerken, Peterson & Rulfs, Robert R. Bellamy, E. Warren & Son and Penny & Co. On Market street booths have been erected in front of their places by C. W. Yates & Co., Andrew Mavronichols and Jos. C. Shepard, Jr. On Princess street, Mercer & Evans and Worsley's Cafe and Restaurant have displays.

Many of the merchants who did not find it convenient to erect booths have very creditable store displays and decorations and several are using banners to attract attention, notable among them being at the stores of Messrs. S. & B. Solomon, corner of Front and Market streets.

Order Kept at the Fair.

Mayor Waddell, Chief Furlong and individual members of the police force are putting forth extraordinary efforts to maintain the best of order during the week, and the way the crowds were handled last night is evidence of their skill in this direction. Not more than half a dozen arrests were made up to midnight, and these were for petty offences. Ten extra policemen are on duty at night and five during the day. The Elks also never fail to place the stamp of their disapproval upon any breach of the peace.

Additional Subscriptions Received.

Additional subscriptions to the carnival fund have been received from the following: John J. Kelly, Jake Elsback, L. W. Davis, J. B. J. Sandlin, Martin Rathjen, N. B. Rankin, Sam Lee, H. F. Haar, J. W. H. Fuchs, Mercer & Evans, Adolph Goodman, A. D. Wessell, J. W. Duls, E. F. Johnson, M. C. Benson, W. J. Crosswell. Mme. Lela Elrado.

THE UNITED STATES COURT.

Superior Court Has in Hearing a Case Against the Champion Compress Company.

THE SESSION YESTERDAY.

Number of Matters Disposed of, Including Several Motions—Bank of New Hanover vs. Butters Lumber Co. Talesmen for To-day.

About the only matter of public interest in the Superior Court yesterday was the entering upon the trial just before adjournment for the day of the damage suit brought by George Graham, colored, against the Champion Compress and Warehouse Company, in which the plaintiff sues for $5,000 alleged damaged by reason of certain injuries received by him some time ago while loading cotton in the hold of a British tramp steam ship. The plaintiff is represented by Stevens, Beasley & Weeks and L. V. Grady, while Moares & Rusk appear for the defendant company. A jury had been empanelled and the complaint and answer read when court took a recess at 6 o'clock until 9:30 A. M. to-day.

The jury which has the case in hearing is composed as follows: Clifton Carroll, Geo. T. Grotgen, J. A. Montgomery, Joe L. Middleton, Joe A. Westbrook, D. G. Westbrook, J. W. Barnes, J. B. Watters, Sol Bear, Owen Fennell, F. T. Skipper, E. T. Conoway.

The other proceedings of the days are as follows:

M. J. Corbett vs. J. B. Sellars & Co.; summons to issue for Ed. MacRae.

T. G. Williams, administrator, vs. Inter State Telephone and Telegraph Company; set for second Monday at the next term of court for trial of civil cases.

OPERA HOUSE TO-NIGHT.

MacLean-Tyler Company in Big Revival of "School For Scandal."

To-night at the Opera House the MacLean-Tyler Company will appear and will, no doubt, be greeted by a large audience. These two stars have determined this season to test whether the public does not enjoy, and fully appreciate, plays of undoubted worth and merit when properly mounted and presented. In other words, they have decided to give authors whose names have become classic an even chance with some of the more modern school of novelists and story writers, whose wotks have been "adapted" for the stage.

It is admitted that much of this latter day dramatic fare would not be accepted without lavish outlays for stage settings, etc. Therefore, Mr. MacLean and Miss Tyler think Shakespeare and Sheridan are worthy of equal elaborate appointments. The production of the School for Scandal is not only a magnificent example of scenic arts, but historically correct in matters of detail, and an excellent company will present the play.

Seats are now on sale at Gerken's.

Request to Merchants.

In order to allow them to participate in the military parade for the carnival on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, merchants and other employers of members of the Wilmington division, Naval Reserves, Wilmington Light Infantry and Colonel, Walker Taylor's Boys' Brigade are earnestly requested by the Elks to allow them a brief leave of absence until after the parade. It is to the interest of the people at Wilmington to make as creditable a display as possible and for this reason it is hoped that each organization will enter with full ranks.

Handsome Vestibuled Coach.

A handsome full vestibuled day coach for the Florida and West Indian Limited, New York to Tampa, will be turned out of the Atlantic Coast Line shops in this city in a day or two. The coach is the first of its class built and painted in the shops here and is decidedly handsome. It is finished in oak and mahogany and the decorative work, the creation of the A. C. L. paint shops in Wilmington, is a credit to that department if credit was ever deserved for any work. Few people, perhaps, appreciate that in the Wilmington shops some of the finest work in the country is done.

The Atlantic Coast Line has on sale round trip tickets to Buffalo, on account Pan-American Exposition, with transit limit of five days in each direction and final limit 20 days, at rate of one fare plus $1.00. Rate from Wilmington $23.50. Stop-overs allowed within transit limit. These tickets sold via Philadelphia and Pennsylvania railroad, as well as via direct route. †

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 15.

THEY WANT CHEAP THINGS.

All the leading nations of the world are to-day scheming to get the vantage ground for extending their trade in China. They are watching each other closely lest one gain some advantage over the other, and sometimes resort to tricky methods to fool rivals and to fool Chinese. When you get down to the bottom of it trade had more to do with the intervention of the allied powers in the Boxer uprising than the safety of missionaries or of foreigners in that country. The fact is that some of the European nations have found the missionaries useful and profitable for when any of these happened to be killed by the Chinese, the penalty was territorial concessions with sea front and harbors, mining rights, etc., as a basis of operations to extend the trade of that country and enlarge the "sphere of influence."

In their planning and manoeverings to get positions in that country from which to extend their trade they have spent more money than they could make out of China for a century to come. The trade expansionists of this country, too, seem to have been carried away with the idea that China is to be the great trade center of the future, and hence we have been talking about the "open door" and insisting on having an even chance with any of the other nations in the scrimmage for the trade of the Orientals, even intimating that if it should be necessary we would call our guns into action to keep the door open, or to prevent some other nation from getting into it and crowding us out. It is all very well to look to that country and try to get a trade footing in it, because every little helps and the trade gives employment to some of our own people, creates a demand for some of our raw materials and makes business for ships, merchants and others, but it isn't well to become excited over it, to overestimate it nor to neglect other quarters while our attention is centered on China.

Numbers amount to something in trade calculations, but it dosen't do to take it for granted that large populations mean large or profitable trade and this seems to be the assumption of the expansionists who have become so much interested in China that they profess to believe that the future prosperity of our country and especially of the cotton manufacturers of the South depends upon getting a secure foothold in China.

In discussing trade possibilities in China we have remarked that the Chinese would not make very profitable customers because from their training the habits inherited and followed from childhood, and the poverty of the masses of the people, they bought nothing that they could dispense with and when they bought they wanted much for little money, and made a little money go a long way. That is the case, doubtless, with the poor of all countries, but is characteristically the case with the Chinese. It is a matter of habit with them, a habit born of necessity, and a habit which is universal with them. Of course the wealthy can gratify their tastes and afford to spend money to do it, but the wealthy in that country do not amount to one in a thousand. There are nine hundred and ninety-nine who are compelled to be close and count the pennies they spend to the one who can afford to live well and spend liberally.

Our consuls in China are instructed to keep a close watch upon trade in that country, the trade of other nations as well as our own, and to gather and communicate such information as might be helpful in our trade movements there. Consul Miller, at Newchwang, in his last report, speaking of the kinds of goods most popular in China, says:

"One of the marked features of the trade in most things given in this list is the inferior quality of the goods. Cheapness seems to be the predominating characteristic. This is especially true of Japanese productions. The Japanese are imitating a vast number of foreign goods and putting a cheaper quality on the market; they are especially shrewd in imitation of brands.

"Something of the expansion and diversification of the trade of Japan will be observed from the great variety of things she sells to China. She understands the nature and character of the Chinese, makes a close study of the requirements and caters to the peculiar artistic taste of the masses and their desire for very cheap goods. It is one of the traits of the Chinese to handle the things they use very carefully and hence cheap and poorly made articles will last much longer in service than with most people. Goods made in China would be of little value for use by Americans. This characteristic makes the Chinese market for flimsy, gaudy and cheap things a good one in many lines. It is not, however, applicable to all branches, for the trade mark of substantial and satisfactory products has a greater value here than in most countries.

"It is an easy matter to send to China an article that will not be used; for instance, spoons made according to the foreign model are disliked, while those made after the Chinese form are increasing rapidly in sale. The country is being flooded with frauds and imitations, to avoid which every brand should have Chinese characters on the labels and these labels should be properly recorded and protected by the United States Consulate.

"I am inclined to the opinion that there are possibilities for considerable trade in a very cheap line of canned fruits, such as would be counted culls in the United States. Most Chinese fruits are coarse and of poor flavor, and are in every way surpassed by the culls of the Pacific coast fruits. Cheapness is the main feature in the food supply of China, as well as in most things consumed by the Chinese, and whatever is imported here must have this as its primary virtue."

Cheap goods for cheap people, cheap because their poverty compels them to be cheap, and they will never get out of that in this generation nor in this century, and by the time they do get out of it they will be making their own cheap goods. Their trade is worth something, of course, because possibly the bulk of it may become large, but it will never justify the rainbow pictures the expansionists see in it. There would be more in the trade of a State like New York than there would be in the whole Chinese Empire.

AS A MONEY CROP.

There are crops grown in this country which exceed in value the cotton crop, but as a money bringer and a factor in international commerce cotton leads them all. In discussing the value of leading crops the New York Commercial, which gives corn the first place, thus ranks them:

"The second place is usually held by hay, which ranges in value from $330,000,000 to $494,000,000 annually, and one year (1893) it brought $570,000,000 to the farmers. But during the years from 1879 to 1882 and from 1891 to 1897 the wheat crop held second place. As a rule, however, wheat is the third crop in point of value, ranging from $213,000,000 to $497,000,000.

"Cotton comes next in order; broadly speaking, the annual value of the lint ranges from $242,000,000 to $339,000,000, the minimum about being realized in 1879 and the high point being touched in 1900. But the by-products of cotton are very valuable, growing more so each year and, if taken into consideration, would place cotton regularly before wheat in total annual value. Indeed, ten times in the past thirty-five years the value of the lint alone has exceeded the value of the wheat crop; those years were 1869, 1870, 1872, 1887, 1889, 1890, 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1900. The prices of wheat were exceptionally depressed during 1893 to 1895 inclusive."

The corn crop it values at from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000 a year. Allowing so much per ton for hay, so much per bushel for wheat and corn, it fixes the value of these respective crops, which is correct as far as it goes. But this is not the money value, for a very large percentage of all of these crops is consumed on the farms where they are grown, and therefore, while valuable, do not bring any money to the growers, nor to the country. We ship very little hay, only the smaller portion of the wheat crop and a comparatively small portion of the corn crop, except what is shipped in the form of pork. As a matter of fact the beef and pork ought to be included in the hay and corn crop.

But with cotton it is different. Every pound of it is converted into money, while nearly three-fourths of the crop goes abroad and brings money back. It is, in fact, the money crop of the country, and the main factor in our commerce with other nations.

ANOTHER ROUTE.

It is a somewhat remarkable fact that whenever the Isthmian canal begins to attract special attention something happens, the object of which is to divert attention from it, and to prevent this Government from appropriating money to the Nicaragua canal. The Panama company either comes to the front with a proposition to sell cheap, or some new route has been discovered, which there will be little digging to do and where the cost wouldn't be half as much as the lowest estimates for the Nicaragua route.

The latest is the reported discovery of a practicable route, all through the State of Colombia, where it wouldn't be necessary to construct more than thirty miles of canal, the most difficult and expensive work in it being a tunnel about eight miles long, through the mountains. This tunnel would have to be 200 feet wide and 100 feet high, but it would be done at an estimated cost, it is said, of $6,000,000 a mile. But the daisy thing about this canal would be the fine harbors said to be at each end, which would require no improvement.

It is rather remarkable that notwithstanding the length of time explorations have been going on, and the number of surveys that have been made, none of these new and short routes were discovered until quite recently. According to our recollection at least a half dozen have been discovered since the Nicaragua scheme has come up for discussion. We remember reading some ago about a fellow who paddled a boat all the way from the Atlantic to the Pacific and found a natural canal route, where there no mountains to cut into, no locks or dams to build nor anything of that kind.

But they are not done finding new routes yet and will not be until the canal question is settled and some route definitely decided upon and the work of construction inaugurated.

J. A. Boldt, deceased, Secretary of the Guarantee Savings Company, of Cleveland. Ohio, who recently committed suicide, got away with $209,000 of the company's money before he got away with himself.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The German-Americans have formed an alliance in several of the States of the Union and have adopted a platform. It begins to look like just plain American-Americans will have to do likewise, if they want to keep in the political game.—Atlanta Journal. Dem.

—Ship subsidy "with all objectionable features eliminated" is to be the chief concern of the Republican leaders in the next Congress. But should the objectionable features of the Frye-Hanna scheme of Treasury spoliation be in reality eliminated the subsidy mongers would have no use for it.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—At last the inevitable comparison has come. Admiral Schley is the American Dreyfus. The Chicago Tribune, a Republican journal, says so. "But for a conspiracy to degrade and ruin a French officer," it says, "there would have been no Dreyfus case. Would there have been a Schley case had there not been an equally knavish conspiracy to wreck the reputation of a gallant American officer?" That is pretty strong language. Who are the "knavish conspirators?" Who are the American du Paty de Clam, Henry and Esterhazy. Let the Tribune point them out and pillory them to public scorn.—Savannah News, Dem.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Goldsboro Argus: The Southbound shoofly Saturday morning struck a negro man sitting asleep on the end of a crosstie of the track between Black Creek and Fremont, from the result of which he died at 9 o'clock this morning in this city, where he was brought on the same train for medical attention.

—Durham Herald: E. T. Owens a white man is being held a prisoner at the Walters boarding house on Main street. He came here several days ago from Virginia and soon afterwards showed signs of being violently insane. Since then it has been learned that he escaped from a hospital at Staunton. The authorities are making an effort to get him back to his native State.

—Fayetteville Observer: We saw this morning a specimen of some really fine corn grown on Mr. N. H. Smith's sand hill farm. The ear is perfectly filled out and the grain is as white as flour. Mr. Smith has a photograph of his son sitting on horseback in the midst of the cornfield and the young man is unable to reach the top of the stalks with a long riding whip he has lifted above his head.

—Concord Standard: Not many months ago Dr. J. W. Harrington purchased a lot from Mr. J. C. Wadsworth at the addition and now a rich gold vein has been discovered on the property. The famous Montgomery gold mine is near this property, which is now owned principally by U. S. Senator Clark. This mine was worked several years on a paying basis while the mine was near the surface, but on account of the dip it took work was discontinued and it is believed that the ore that has been discovered on Dr. Harrington's property is the long-sought for outcrop of the vein that was worked in the Montgomery mine.

—Morehead Coaster: Our sportsmen are having a fine time catching gray trout with hook and line. Every party going out brings back no less than 50 pounds to the man, some reaching 200 pounds to the man. Those six and seven pound trout are a pleasure to land. —— The porpoise factory is running in full blast. Wallace & Royal, in engaging in this business have opened up a hitherto inaccessible source of revenue to our people. The porpoise is among the worse enemies that our fishermen have to contend with, as they charge on a school of mullet or trout and scatter them; but now the pig of the sea is made to pay for his little diversions along our coast. The skin of the porpoise is valuable, as it makes the high price shoes the high steppers wear. This firm shipped a large lot of them this week. Valuable oil is obtained from the jawbone; another grade of oil is taken from the cushion on head of the fish; and still another grade from the blubber.

—Raleigh News and Observer: 'Squire S. A. Smith, of Houses' Creek, who was here yesterday said: "The cotton crop in the northwestern part of the county cannot be described otherwise than 'sorry.' All of the crops are way below the average, though some are fairly good. I have the poorest cotton crop I have ever grown in all my farming experience." —— In the examination held for white teachers the other day there were fifty-two applicants for certificates to teach school. The papers submitted on the examination, so Superintendent Clements says, were excellent, and shows the applicants this year to be the best prepared body of teachers that have ever stood the examination. Friday County Superintendent of Schools Clements was busily engaged in conducting the examinations of the colored teachers of Wake county. There were seventy-two who stood the examination and it will take some time to examine the papers and see who are the successful applicants. Mr. Clements says that the colored teachers Friday behaved in an admirable manner. —— In Davie Superior Court Friday Rufus Burton was sentenced to fifteen years in the State prison for fifteen years for killing Policeman Wood at Advance last Spring. Burton submitted to murder in the second degree. He killed Wood with a shot gun. He was arrested in Virginia several weeks after the crime.

A Midnight Escapade.

It was midnight as a thundering knock came at the door of room No. 48, Phenix hotel.

"What is wanted?" asked the occupant as he sat up in bed with furiously beating heart.

"We want you! Open this door!"

"Never!"

"Then take the consequences."

The man sprang out of bed and hurriedly dressed himself. His face was pale and his hands trembled, but he shut his lips with a determination to sell his life dearly. He heard footsteps moving in the hall, and presently his door was burst from its hinges and a dozen men burst into the room. They found him standing with a revolver in each hand and the light of battle in his eyes.

"You may hang me," he said in a low, tense voice, "but 12 of you will go into the other world before me."

"Who said anything about hanging?" inquired a voice.

"But you have come for that. Twelve years ago in this town I killed four men. You have recognized me and have come for revenge."

"Not much, stranger. We don't know anything about the four men and don't want to. You live in Missouri, don't you?"

"I do."

"Well, what we wanted to ask was whether three of a kind beat a straight in your state."

"They do not."

"Then that's all, and you can go back to your snooze. Sorry to have disturbed you, but we had a dispute and wanted to settle it."—New York Sun.

Fatal Brevity.

There is a little settlement of New Hampshire people in Kiowa county, Colo. Among other things they brought with them the New Hampshire aversion to using any more words in conversation than are absolutely necessary. Two of them met on the road recently and indulged in the following dialogue:

"Mornin, Si."

"Mornin, Josh."

"What'd you give your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Mornin."

"Mornin."

A few days later the men met again, and here's the way a hard luck story was told in mighty few words:

"Mornin, Si!"

"Mornin, Josh!"

"What'd you say you gave your horse for bots?"

"Turpentine."

"Killed mine."

"Mine too."

"Mornin!"

"Mornin!"

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, October 14.—The market for cotton futures opened quiet and firm, with prices seven to eleven points higher and continued to improve during the next fourteen minutes on active general buying led by the bears. Wall street, Europe, the South, the West, spinners and room bulls bought large lines of near and Winter months, basing this demand on strong English cables and frost reports from pretty much all of the northern section of the central and western belt. Included in the early buying were large purchases for the account of spot dealers South who had hedged here against holdings of cotton, covering these hedges after selling enormous amounts to exporters and domestic spinners. The frost report of the government included northern Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Missouri, Tennessee, northern Mississippi and northern Louisiana. This, with a forecast from Washington for frosts over northern Georgia, western North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee greatly alarmed the bears and caused spinners to make returns for cotton with which to spin cloths for delivery in December and January, the latter sales having been made last month. Small port and interior receipts, crop damage accounts, smaller offerings of spot cotton throughout the South and good accounts from spinning centres kept the local market firm all the late forenoon and during the afternoon. At most fluctuations did not exceed seven points, with December leading the rise. The room trade took profits near midday, but once more went long at the last half hour. The close was very steady with prices net seven to ten points higher. Total sales were estimated at 250,000 bales, probably the largest single day's business thus far this season.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.

WILMINGTON, N. C., September 28th, 1901.

To the Citizens of Wilmington and the County of New Hanover:

The Board of Managers of the James Walker Memorial Hospital beg to announce that the new Hospital, which was donated to the city and county by the late James Walker, has been completed and delivered to the Board of Managers.

Ample provision has been made by the city and county authorities for the support and maintenance of the Hospital. Before its usefulness can be realized, it must be furnished and equipped; and this duty is among the first that has devolved upon the Board of Managers in assuming charge of the property. A careful estimate has been made and it is ascertained that it will require at least six thousand dollars to properly furnish and equip the Hospital. An appeal is now made to the citizens of the city and county to supply this amount. It having been suggested that many private citizens would desire to make contributions towards this purpose, the Board has decided to open subscription lists in order that an opportunity may be afforded to those who desire to do so, to contribute. These subscription lists are in the hands of Dr. C. P. Bolles, the Secretary of the Board, at the office of Messrs. Hugh MacRae & Co., Bankers, and it is hoped that liberal contributions will be promptly made. It has been decided that, in order to have the Hospital uniformly and properly equipped, the same must be done under the supervision of the Board of Managers, and that, on this account, the contributions must be in cash.

INTERPRETATION.

We long for a peace that is lasting,
We plead for a rhyme that's rare,
Like fishermen ceaselessly casting
Their nets in the gulf of despair.
We draw from deep waters of sorrow
Dark wrecks of our failure and fear,
And cast on an island we borrow
The storm that will never come near.

Faith speeds past the footsteps of duty
And halts at the door of a tomb;
Thought pierces the source of all beauty
And returns unto dust—'tis the doom
Of each man child to strive and to wonder,
To plan for some positive gain,
And only find mysteries under
All life, be it pleasure or pain.

Lo, in realms of the mind there is treasure
For toilers who dwell in content;
There is truth that no science can measure,
And the fearless are never forspent;
There is light when earth shadows are falling,
There's reward for the deeds that are done,
Where envy crowned virtues are calling,
"Through faith is thy victory won!"

—Charles W. Stevenson in Chicago Record.

THEIR NEIGHBORLY WAY.

Didn't Wait Long to Begin Borrowing Things.

A young woman of Washington birth and rearing, who has made her home for these three years past in a small Indiana town, says that for tact and diplomacy she knows nobody to equal her neighbors out there. She had scarcely settled herself in her new home when one day she heard a hen proudly cackling in her back yard. She went out to see what could have brought a strange hen into her yard and found that the fowl had just laid an egg in the woodbox outside the kitchen door. While she was still wondering where on earth the creature had come from the shock head of a thin and tall girl of 12 rose over the fence which divided the yard from the yard of the house next door.

"Hello," said the girl.

"Good morning," answered the Washingtonian.

"We got plenty of eggs," remarked the girl. "Maw says you kin have that one our hen jes' laid in that woodbox of yourn."

"Thank you very much," said the Washingtonian.

The girl still hung on the fence.

"We ain't goin to charge you nothin fer it," she went on.

"That's very kind, indeed," answered the new neighbor.

"It's a gift," remarked the girl.

Then there was silence for a few moments. The girl still clung to her side of the fence.

"Say," she said finally, "maw says now you're acquainted with us folks she'd like to borry a tack hammer."—Washington Post.

That Low Animal, Man.

Instead of the highest, man is in some respects the lowest of the animal kingdom. Man is the most unchaste, the most drunken, the most egotistic, the most miserly, the most hypocritical and the most atrocious of living creatures. No animal, except man, kills for the mere sake of killing. For one being to take the life of another for purposes of selfish utility is bad enough, conscience knows, but the indiscriminate massacre of defenseless victims by armed and organized packs, just for pastime, is beyond characterization. The human species is the only species of animals that plunges to such depths of atrocity. Even vipers and hyenas do not kill for recreation.

No animal, except man, habitually seeks wealth purely out of an insane impulse to accumulate, and no animal, except man, gloats over accumulations that are of no possible use to him, that are an injury and an abomination and in whose acquisition he has committed irreparable crimes upon others. There are no millionaires—no professional, legalized, lifelong kleptomaniacs—among the birds and quadrupeds. No animal except man spends so large a part of his energies striving for superiority—not superiority in usefulness, but that superiority which consists in simply getting on the heads of one's fellows to crow—and no animal practices common, ordinary morality to the beings of the world in which he lives so little, compared with the amount he preaches it, as man.—Humane Review.

The Production of Caviare.

Two distinct varieties of caviare are manufactured in Russia—the granulated and the pressed forms. The granulated form is obtained by passing the fish roes under pressure through a fine meshed sieve. The small eggs pass intact, but the envelopes are retained in the sieve. To these pure salt is added in the proportion of one-twentieth or one-fortieth. It is intimately mixed with the eggs by means of a kind of wooden spoon. The caviare is then ready for consumption. It is packed in round metallic boxes of one and a half to five pounds and enveloped in parchment for transportation. The pressed caviare keeps better than the granulated form.

To obtain it the fresh caviare is treated with a solution of salt at 25 degrees Baume until the eggs acquire a certain degree of hardness. This operation requires considerable skill and experience. If allowed to stay in the solution too long, the caviare will be too salty, and if not long enough the eggs cannot be preserved. The caviare is then put into small sacks, which are pressed under a screw press to drive out the excess of salt. It is packed in barrels containing up to 1,000 pounds or left in the original sacks, which measure 8 by 20 inches. The average export of pressed caviare for the three years 1896 to 1898 has been more than 3,000 tons, representing a value of $1,400,000.—Scientific American.

Turkish Police Justice.

A trifling dispute between a Kurd and an Armenian on a street in Constantinople the other day led to an amusing instance of justice as it is dispensed by the Turkish police.

A tobacco box was found on the pavement, as alleged, by a Kurd. An Armenian claimed the box as his own. Neither would give in, and the dispute waxed warm. From words they were near coming to blows when a policeman came up, but he could not decide the question of ownership.

At last the Armenian suggested that the policeman ask what was in the box.

"Tobacco and cigarette paper," said the Kurd promptly.

"The box contains nothing but 10 piasters," said the Armenian, smiling.

The officer opened the box and, finding the Armenian was right, settled the dispute by giving him the box.

"The Armenian is the owner of the box," he said. "The Kurd is a liar." Here he smote the Kurd over the head. "Allah be praised! For my trouble in deciding this complicated affair I will keep the 10 piastres."

Secrets Not to Be Kept.

The Hardest Head Yet.

Cheerful Rastus hobbled painfully into the office of the city physicians, supported by two abbreviated broom handles.

"Well, Rassy, how is the limb today?" inquired one of the young men in charge.

"Tol'ble, tol'ble," replied Rastus, grinning like a new moon.

"Ah tell ye," he said as the dressings were changed, "Ah'se heerd all kin's stories aboot niggers' haids—how hawd dey is an how presumshus it becomes er white man ter 'tempt ter break 'em—but lemme tell ye ye doan know aboot it tel ye runs ag'in de real t'ing. But de reaction didn't do er t'ing but break t'ree of me toes, an dat's what Ah'm here fo'—ha, ha, ha! Huh, huh!"

And cheerful Rastus, with the broken toes, laughed hilariously while the physician readjusted the splints.—Detroit Free Press.

Like a Cat on a Wall.

A Scotch highland minister was very fond of commenting on each verse as he read it out. On reading the precept, "Walk circumspectly," he said: "Ye've all seen a cat, my brethren, walking on the top of a wall covered wi' broken bottles and bits of glass. See hoo it lifts ae fit and then anither fit and hoo slowly and carefully it puts it doon, to keep clear of the sharp bits of glass. And so, my brethren, in this warld o' snares and pitfalls, we should be like the cat on the wall—we should walk circumspectly."

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, languor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken-down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 15.

THE PRESIDENT'S CALLERS.

Bishop Grant, of the A. M. E. Church, Endorses Appointment of Gov Jones of Alabama to a Judgeship.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—The President had quite a number of callers to-day. Bishop Grant, of Indianapolis, a well known bishop of the A. M. E. church, called to express to the President his hearty endorsement of the appointment of ex-Governor Jones of Alabama to a Federal judgeship in that State. He told the President that ex-Governor Jones, in his message to the State Legislature, had said more in opposition to lawlessness and lynchings than any President had ever said and that in his (Bishop Grant's) opinion such appointments as that of Governor Jones would do much to better the conditions between the races in the South. The President told the Bishop that he had read ex-Governor Jones' message and that it was one of the things which had induced him to make the appointment. Bishop Grant asked that the President consult several well known level headed colored men before deciding matters affecting the colored race.

Senator Martin and Representative Hay, of Virginia, called to pay their respects. The latter, who is a member of the military affairs committee of the House, spoke of his interest in the enactment of a law that would increase the efficiency of the militia of the States and met with a hearty response from President Roosevelt.

CASE OF MISS STONE.

She is Alive and Efforts Are Continuing for Her Release.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—All that can be gained from the State Department officials respecting the case of Miss Stone, the missionary who is held by brigands in Bulgaria, is that she is alive and efforts are continuing for her release. The officials, while declining to indicate the nature of the measures they are pursuing to this end, still maintain hope of ultimate success.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 14.—Neither Mr. Baird nor Mr. Haskell, the missionaries, have yet been able to get news from the brigands in order to arrange the amount of ransom for Miss Stone.

SHIP SUBSIDY.

Another Bill Prepared by Senator Frye for the Coming Session.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—Senator Frye talked to the President to-day about the ship subsidy bill. Mr. Frye has prepared a new bill, but says he will not give it out until it is introduced at the coming session. He says he does not want it riddled now by hostile critics, but is willing to receive friendly suggestions. Senator Frye says he believes that there is a much brighter prospect for a shipping bill at the coming session than there was at the last Congress. The whole subject was discussed with the President by Senator Frye who remained at the White House for luncheon.

JOHANN MOST.

Anarchist Sentenced to One Year in the Penitentiary.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Johann Most, the anarchist, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary to-day in the court of special sessions for publishing in his paper an alleged seditious article on the day following the shooting of the late President McKinley.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Times, commenting editorially upon the conviction of Johann Most, the anarchist, considers that the sentence is "entirely inadequate for such a gross outrage upon the public feeling," and complains that "in both Great Britain and the United States there is lacking a disposition to grasp the nettle firmly."

FIRE AT NEW ORLEANS.

A Large Furniture Store and Other Buildings Destroyed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—A fire occurred to-night on Camp street, in which the furniture store of the Union Company was destroyed and the Tutonic Insurance Company's building ruined. Corbera and Klein, agents of the furniture company, had not yet completed moving in their stock from a former location, but most of their $40,000 stock was burned. The buildings were valued at about $60,000 and the furniture store belonged to Tulane University.

IN COUNTY MAYO.

John O'Donnell Forcibly Prevented From Addressing His Constituents.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—John O'Donnell (Nationalist), attempted to address his constituents to day in Kilmaine, County Mayo, the scene of recent evictions. He was dragged off the platform five times by the police and finally, after a fierce struggle, was taken to the barracks. One hundred and fifty police were present at the meeting. ADMIRAL SCHLEY'S FIRST WITNESS.

Captain Francis A. Cook, Who Commanded the Brooklyn in the Santiago Campaign.

GOVERNMENT'S CASE CLOSED.

Captain Cook Tells of the Blockade of Cienfuegos, the Coaling Incident Schley's Colloquy With McCalla. The Naval Engagement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, October 14.—To-day in the Schley court of inquiry, Judge Advocate Lemly concluded presentation of testimony for the government and the first of Admiral Schley's witnesses was introduced.

Captain Francis A. Cook, who commanded the Brooklyn during the Santiago campaign and who acted, though unofficially, in the capacity of chief of staff for the commodore, was on the witness stand the greater part of the day. He was followed by Lieutenant Commander William F. Fullam, who was senior watch officer on the New Orleans during the Spanish war; and former Lieutenant Joseph Beale, who is an officer on the Harvard, translated the cipher dispatches between Commodore Schley and the Navy Department carried by that vessel. Lieutenant Beale was the last of the government witnesses, although Captain Lemly explained that he would reserve the right to call others if the occasion demand that he do so.

Captain Cook was questioned by Mr. Hanna and responded in clear and distinct tones. He said he had been at Key West on May 19th. Giving the reasons for the departure of the flying squadron for Cienfuegos Captain Cook said the squadron had been sent to that port "to intercept and meet the Spanish squadron, it having been determined, as we believed at that time, by them to make Cienfuegos their objective point." He had understood that the Spanish fleet carried munitions of war for Havana, and it was believed that they would go to Cienfuegos because of its accessibility to Havana.

Captain Cook said that upon arriving off Cienfuegos on the morning of May 22d a blockade was immediately established, as the firing of guns was heard and it was believed that Cervera had arrived and a fete in honor of his appearrance was on.

Earthworks on the shore were seen, but they were not fired upon because it was considered desirable not to unnecessarily expend ammunition.

"I think between that time and the arrival of the Adula, it was presumed that the whole beach was occupied," he said. "We saw cavalry and others on the beach. The possibility of a boat landing was talked of. On the arrival of the Adula, we fully expected to get all information."

"Did you see any signal lights on shore while you were there?"

"Yes, the first thing after we arrived, on May 22nd."

"Where were those signal lights and what were they?"

"I judged them to have been six or seven miles to the westward, three lights, one ahead of the other, very distinctly, and the discussion that took place on the ship in which I think the commodore took part, was pretty clear evidence that it was a signal of some kind to assist that fleet and that he certainly had them in there."

"There could have been no doubt whatever from the arrangement of those lights, that they were intended as signals?"

"Oh! No, their appearing at the time they did and remaining so long; but we could not determine from whom or to whom they were sent."

Mr. Hanna questioned the witness concerning the arrival of the Iowa and the Dupont off Cienfuegos. Captain Cook said they had brought dispatches and he had gathered from conversation with Commodore Schley after their receipt that it was the idea both of Sampson and Schley that they should continue to hold Cienfuegos. He did not, he said, recall the receipt of the McCalla memorandum about a landing place near Cienfuegos.

Mr. Hanna asked: "Were you present at any interview between Captain McCalla and the commodore?"

"I was in consultation."

"Briefly and exactly as you can give it, what occurred?"

"We talked on various subjects at first. I think Captain McCalla informed him he had some mining materials for the insurgents and that he was going to communicate with the insurgent camp. We brought up the question about the camp and where it was, and then the commodore said to him: 'We have seen three peculiar lights, one ahead of the other, here, but we cannot make out what they are and I believe it is something in connection with the Spanish fleet.' Captain McCalla gave a start, threw up his hands and said: 'That is the signal from the insurgent camp. They want to communicate with you," and added, 'Well I can go there and find out at once.' The commodore told him to go, to get off as soon as possible, and added: 'You can send a boat across and let me know as soon as possible.' Then the subject of coaling came up again, about the great difficulty we were going to have in coaling from colliers, and Captain McCalla said: "You need not be at all concerned about me. I will get coal if there is any coal to be obtained." He was always cheerful about everything. He started from the ship almost immediately, saying: 'I must get off.' In the meantime closely connected with that was the arrival of the Adulta. This steamer was in from Jamaica and reported that the Spanish fleet had gone into Santiago and had left on the 19th. That seemed to confirm the commodore's idea that they had reached Cienfuegos. It was a suspicious craft. I said something to the commodore about letting that steamer go in. He said 'I don't care anything about that steamer, but I am bound to get information from her. If the captain does not give it I will certainly get it out of some of the passengers. It was arranged that when she came out, the officers should go aboard and question the passengers and get information from them. She did not come out. That confirmed him still more that they were there. Then the Eagle came down in the evening and reported that the Spanish squadron was not in Cienfuegos.

Speaking of the coal supply for the vessels of the flying squadron while at Cienfuegos Captain Cook said that his only anxiety was concerning the Texas whose supply was light, it had been found difficult to coal that ship on account of its sponsons. He said in this connection that Commodore Schley had always been persistent in keeping the ships as full of coal as possible.

Captain Cook said he recalled the dispatch boat Hawk on May 24th with dispatches. He was told that the information was to the effect that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago, "but," he said, "I was not especially impressed with that fact as I had heard it before." He was, however, told that this information was more positive than any which had been brought. The commodore, he said, had told him that the Hawk had brought orders to the effect that the squadron should proceed to Santiago if he (the commodore) was satisfied that the Spaniards were not at Cienfuegos; but, he said, Commodore Schley had said, "I am not satisfied that they are not here. I still believe they are here."

There was then, he said, considerable talk on the part of the commodore concerning the coal supply, he fearing that if the present expenditure was to continue it would not last long. He was still especially concerned about the Texas, and had said to him (Captain Cook) that "we must keep the ships in fighting trim." They had consulted charts and talked over the case, looking for a place fit for coaling. Finally, he said, they had hit upon Gonaives bay and had decided to lay a course for that point. "The idea," he said, "was that we should proceed in the direction of Santiago and that if we found the sea such that we could coal we would immediately institute the blockade, but if not practicable to do that, we would proceed to Gonaives bay and coal there."

Capt. Cook related the particulars of the meeting with the scout ships off Santiago and told of Captains Cotton and Sigsbee coming on board. Speaking of Captain Sigsbee's visit, he told of his bringing the pilot Nunez aboard. Nunez said he had seen nothing of the Spanish fleet. The witness then detailed the retrograde movement of the flying squadron toward Key West. He said his first information that such a movement was to be undertaken was when he received orders to move. He had, he said, informed Commodore Schley on the evening of the 27th that he thought the sea had become calm enough to coal and had found that the commodore had also reached the same conclusion.

Replying to questions concerning the blockade of Santiago, Captain Cook said that Commodore Schley's constant idea was that the vessels should be kept well supplied with coal and kept moving constantly, as his theory was that the Spanish fleet would come out of the harbor.

"Why was the circular blockade, not adopted?" Mr. Hanna asked "There are many forms of blockade," and I have nothing but praise for the circular blockade," replied the witness, "but the idea was to get the Spaniards to come out and to have our ships moving and ready for action."

"What were your orders of battle from May 19th to June 1st?"

"We did not have any. The fleet was always in condition for action."

"Do you call that a battle order?"

"It is possible to have an order for battle if you know just what conditions you are going to meet. The idea with us was to be able to fight the Spanish fleet whenever we should meet it. I think that was understood by all. I certainly so understood it."

"If the fleet had come out of the harbor previous to June 1st what would you have done?"

"We would have obeyed the orders of the commanding officer."

"Were the fighting ships always in order for battle?"

"I always supposed they were; the Brooklyn was always in excellent order?"

General interest was manifested throughout the court room when Mr. Hanna began his inquiries about the battle of July 3rd.

EPISCOPAL CONVOCATION.

Proposed Canon Prohibiting Re-marriage of Divorced Persons Adopted by Both Houses.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

SAN FRANCISCO, October 14.—The House of Deputies of the Episcopal Church of America, sitting as a committee of the whole, to-day adopted the proposed canon prohibiting the remarriage of divorced persons for causes not arising previous to their former marriage. The canon was adopted as it came from the House of Bishops. The vote stood 182 for; 158 against.

The amendment of Dr. Huntington, of New York, making an exception in the case of the innocent party of a divorce granted on the ground of adultery, was rejected, by a vote of 158 to 173.

The result of the vote in the committee of the whole was reported to the House of Deputies, which will vote on the matter.

The result, however, may not be the same, for in that house the vote of thirty delegations is required to carry a measure, the divided delegations virtually continuing among the nays. No time was set for a final vote by the house, but it presumably will be taken to-morrow.

RUN ON A BANK.

The Fidelity Trust Company, a State Banking Institution of Buffalo, N. Y.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

BUFFALO, N. Y., October 14.—A run on the Fidelity Trust Company, a State banking institution, began today. A long line of anxious depositors stood for hours waiting to withdraw their money. Extra paying tellers were installed and their windows were kept open until 4 o'clock.

Prominent bankers and business men say the rumor that caused the run is groundless and that only small depositors are withdrawing their accounts. Several large deposits were made during the day by business houses, and large sums of money were sent to the Fidelity Company's office by local banks. At the close of business to-day President Forman stated that the withdrawals exceeded the deposits by only $50,000.

WARM WIRELETS.

Edward A. Cudahy, Omaha, Neb., has withdrawn the reward of $25,000 which he offered ten months ago for the arrest of the abductors of his son. The reward is withdrawn unconditionally.

A passenger train on the Alabama & Vicksburg road was wrecked at Meridian, Miss. The accident was caused by six coal cars being left on the main track. A negro fireman was scalded to death and others were injured.

By an explosion in a mine at Hazleton, W. Va., thirteen miners were burned, five probably fatally. The accident was caused by a miner loading a hole with too much powder, causing the dust from the electric machines to ignite and explode.

Howard K. Sloan, D. K. Finlay, Oscar Dunlap and Henry T. Wallace, four men accused of abducting Mabel Goodrich, the proprietress of a disreputable house, and robbing her of money and diamonds valued at $3,500, were given a final hearing in Philadelphia and committed without bail for trial.

EXECUTION OF LEON CZOLGOSZ.

Only Twenty-six Witnesses Will be Allowed to be Present at the Electrocution.

PREPARATIONS UNDER WAY.

Jailors Deny That the Condemned Man is Breaking Down—Thousands of Letters Sent Him—Many Packages of Fruit and Flowers

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Superintendent Cornelius V. Collins has sent a request to Secretary of State Hay to designate an official representative of the government to be present at the electrocution of Leon F. Czolgosz, the murderer of President McKinley. Only twenty six witnesses will be present in the chamber of death when the sentence is executed. Warden Mead, of Auburn prison, has sent to Superintendent Collins the requests he has received for permission to attend the electrocution—over a thousand in all. The law will limit the number of witnesses and the superintendent will decide who the witnesses will be.

It was stated at the State department of prisoners to day that statements to the effect that Czolgosz is in a continuous state of collapse and that he breaks down and weeps every time anything is said to him concerning the electrocution are false. Superintendent Collins had a talk with the condemned man some days ago, and at that time he said he knew he had to die. He expressed no fear as to the electrocution, but said that he would not care to go outside of the prison for he believed that the people would kill him.

Since his confinement in Auburn prison several thousand letters have been received for him at the prison, as well as a large number of express packages containing flowers and fruit. The letters, flowers or fruit have never reached the condemned man. The flowers and fruit, it is learned, have been sent by Christian societies, and a number of letters consoling him in his last moments. Other letters have come from cranks who have written about the species of torture to which they would put him if they had the execution of justice in his case.

It is stated, however, that it would be a matter of surprise if the names of senders of fruits and flowers were made public.

The State prison department has pursued a uniform policy in regard to Czolgosz.

An effort has been made to prevent the murderer from gaining any notoriety while awaiting death and to surround him by as perfect an isolation from the world as possible.

ANOTHER MAN WAS SHOT.

Mystery Surrounding the Killing of John T. O'Brien at the Richmond Locomotive Works Intensified.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, Va, Oct., 14.—The mystery surrounding the instant killing of Superintendent John T. O'Brien at the Richmond Locomotive Works on Saturday morning, became intensified to-day with the discovery that hardly a minute before he was shot through the heart, Manny Parker, one of his machinists, who was standing about fifteen feet behind him, inside of the erecting shop, was shot in the back of the head. Parker is at his home with a hole in his skull and no one knows whether the bullet is inside or where it is. It seems a miracle that both men were not killed, instead of only one. Parker cannot imagine how it was done or by whom. The shooting of himself and the superintendent is more of a mystery than ever.

The inquest over O'Brien, the superintendent, was held this morning, resulting in a verdict that the deceased met death from a bullet wound inflicted by a party or parties unknown.

A YACHT WRECKED.

Yachting Party and Crew Landed Safely. Vessel a Total Loss.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

STRAITFORD, CONN., Oct. 14.—The large sloop yacht Cela, of Newbern, N. C., was wrecked off the mouth of the Housatonic river late yesterday afternoon, and will be a total loss. A party of ladies and gentlemen on board were taken off safely and cared for at the homes of Summer residents here. The Cela was owned by Nicholas Armstein, of East Twelfth street, New York. She came into the Housatonic river last Thursday and started out again Sunday afternoon with Charles Wheeler, of Straitford. At the mouth of the river she missed stays and went on the end of the breakwater off Milford Point. As soon as the yachting party had been taken ashore, the crew found it necessary to abandon the sloop, as she was pounding badly and fast going to pieces.

FORMAL CHARGE OF MURDER.

Against Mrs. Witwer, Suspected of the Murder of Her Four Husbands.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

DAYTON, OHIO, Oct. 14.—The formal charge of murder in the first degree was to day preferred against Mrs. Mary Belle Witwer, suspected of having caused the deaths of her four husbands and her own children, by poison. It is charged that the death of her sister was due to the administration of arsenic wilfully and purposely by Mrs. Witwer. Mrs. Witwer was arraigned in police court. She pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until Friday.

GOVERNOR YATE'S

Endorsement of Paine's Celery Compound

Attracts the Attention of Medical Journals.

Thousands of Such Cases --- Mr. Storms' Letter.

A medical journal, says a writer in the Boston Traveler, has the names and addresses and full histories of hundreds of cases of chronic and acute rheumatism that have been permanently cured by the wonderful remedy which has recently been attracting wide attention since Governor Yates of Illinois publicly endorsed it.

Nothing else has ever been known to cure like obstinate cases. When all others have failed this marvelous remedy for blood and nerves has made sick people well.

Paine's celery compound corrects unhealthy nerve action and feeds the the nerve centres with the elements needed to build them up again into healthy tissues. It cleanses the blood of every trace of poisonous humor and encourages a rapid growth of the red corpuscles upon which the vigor of the entire body depends.

Its action is perfectly intelligible to every able physician.

Diseases of the nervous system do not come without warning. Rheumatism, dyspepsia, insomania, and diseases of the liver and kidneys are but loud cries for a prompt increase of nourishment for the brain and nerve centres. Paine's celery compound feeds these vital parts, and it is upon its marvelous power of nourishing all the nerve tissues and purifying the blood that its remarkable cures depend.

Weariness, lack of energy, and despondency are more a matter of nerves and brain than of the muscles. At this season of the year when thousands of over-working people are entering upon the drudgery that will have no cessation for nearly a year to come, many are already showing the symptoms that sooner or later result from hurry, care, anxiety, and haste without the amount of rest and recreation that nature intended.

Thousands of tired mothers, school teachers, and too ambitious scholars will reveal the fact before the winter is over.

It is high time for all to strike at the root of the trouble. Begin the work of recuperation and cure at the earliest moment.

All who try it will find strength and freedom from disease in Paine's celery compound, which corrects unhealthy nerve action, and supplies the veins with pure, more abundant, more vigorous blood. Paine's celery compound is almost universally prescribed by physicians—who differ on many other things, but who estimate at its proper worth this greatest of all remedies for the prevention and cure of disease. It is no exaggeration to say that every week brings hundreds of letters from those who have used Paine's celery compound and have been benefited by it. Above is the picture of Representative G. H. Storms, one of the cattle kings of Kansas, who says: "I regard Paine's celery compound as the most beneficial and valuable of remedies, especially during the fall months." He writes as have many thousands of others of the good the remedy has done in his own case. Let the reader try it and prove for himself the abundant truth of all that has been said.

It is not what Paine's celery compound says, but what it does, that tells the story of its world-wide fame.
